

I am opposed to the further consolidation of our media. The airwaves are a natural resource and every effort should be made to make them available to all the people of very diverse interests. There should be no media monopolies, so that each citizen of the US receives as wide a range of information as possible to be able to be well informed to make decisions for voting and other civic duties. The FCC should serve THE PEOPLE, not the media industry. I say "no" to further consolidation and monopoly of the media.
